"Watson's Orientals," said to be one of the best of the good shows in the Lyric list, opens at that playhouse this afternoon an engagement of one week.

"Hooligan's Troubles" come to an end at the Grand tonight. The usual matinee performance will be played.

The advance sale for the big spectacular production. "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," is on at the Salt Lake theatre. The engagement is for the first three nights of next week and includes a matinee on Wednesday.

The box office at the Orpheum reports heavy sales for the matinee and tonight's performance which will close possibly the most successful week's business since the house was opened. Next week Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kelcy will be the headliners.

with all the churches of that denomination in this country. These services will last about two weeks.

Dr. William M. Paden of the First Prespoterian church said last night:

"Although the call for these services makes several suggestions concerning the way they should be carried on, it asks each church to hold the services best fitted to its own needs.

"The call came too late to be laid before the meeting last Monday evening, but I have no doubt it will be acted favorably upon at our next meeting.

"The chief object of this religious campaign is to secure converts and arouse the spirit of those already members. The letter states that if converts desire to join some other evangelical church they shall be just as welcome to the meetings."

The evangelical committee directing the series of services is composed of Presbyterian ministers from all over the country, and is headed by James D. Moffatt, John D. Converse and J. Wilbur Chapman.

Rev. McClain W. Davis of the Westminter church said:

"In April all the evangelical churches of Salt Lake are to unite and hold union revival meetings. Dr. Bulgin. a noted southern evangelist, who has been having great success in California, will be here and help us in our work. The meetings will be held either in the First Presbyterian or First Methodist church."

Presbyterian Churches Will Hold Black and Hobday Make Deal With Former Chief Engineer Wallace Explains His Testimony Before Senate Committee.

CHEAPER.

New York, Feb. 9.-John F. Wallace, former chief engineer of the isthmian canal commission, made the following statement today concerning his testimony before the senate committee on interoceanic canals the early part of this week:

"My examination on matters connect ed with the Panama railroad and steamship line on Wednesday in some of the press reports were at consider able variance with regard to what I actually said

"I made the statement that prior to leaving the isthmus, in June last, the through rates from New York to San Francisco by way of the Panama route were about 30 per cent less than the through transcontinental rates by rail from New York to San Francisco. The press had these figures reversed.

Two-Dollar Rate.

"I also made the statement that that part of the through rate from New York to San Francisco by way of the isthmus, which was credited to the Panama railroad line for the transit of goods between Colon and Panama, wis about $2 per ton, and that as the rate through the Suez canal was $1.70 per ton on the gross tonnage, the probable flat rate which will be charged as toll In return for consenting to the election of Case and Mounteer, the county commissioners agreed that Josiah Lees, nightwatchman in the building, should be discharged, and that the "American" end of the board of control should name his successor. Lees is a Republican.

Councilman Hobday favors the appointment of Benjamin H. Nickerson as nightwatchman. Mayor Thompson indicated that he wishes James Veitch to be appointed. If the deal between the two councilmen and the county commissioners holds good, Mr. Nickerson will land the place. would probably approximate $2 per ton, which was the flat rate which I recommended should be charged on all goods regardless of classification, to be handled by the railroad between Colon and Panama

"The significance of this statement lies in the fact that a flat rate charge of $2 per ton on all freight without regard to classification would give commerce the same advantage, as far as the freight rate is concerned, as it would receive by the construction of the canal unless that rate were made lower than the rate at present charged for Mayor Is Graceful.

When Mayor Thompson saw that he was up against it, and that a deal had been made, he voted with the other members of the board, and made the appointments of Case and Mounteer unanthous.

The lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon projections showing the results of recent excavations carried on under the direction of the American School of Archaeology in Athens.

The lecture is open to the public, and no charge is made for admission. The management of the public library has cooperated in emphasizing the value of this lecture by posting special notices and the following bibliography, which will be of value to personal investigators of the subject:

Mayor Is Graceful.

When Mayor Thompson saw that he was up against it, and that a deal had been made, he voted with the other members of the board, and made the appointments of Case and Mounteer unanthous.

Under the present arrangement Mr. Lawrence will retire Feb. 15. and will be succeeded by Mr. Case. Mr. Lees is given until March 1 to resign. If he fails to do so before that time, an "American" will be named to succeed him, and he will be removed.

Mr. Case was a delegate to the last Republican municipal convention and Mr. Mounteer, the assistant engineer, is a warm personal friend of his.

"The point I desire to make clear in this entire matter is that the flat $2 rate across the isthmus could be immediately put into effect by the United States government, and would anticipate, as far as rates are concerned, the ultimate benefit due to the construction of the canal, and that all that was necessary to do in order to enable the Panama An enthusiastic audience which filled the studio in the Commercial club building listened to the lecture recital given by Mrs. Martha Royle King and her pupils last evening. Two of the foremost woman composers of the day were taken by for study both in their lives and in railroad to handle freight across the isthmus by this route (which is equivalent to 4 cents per ton per mile and is perfectly ample for the service rendered), would be the equipment of the Panama railroad with modern engines Lang and Helen Hood. Miss Blanche Kidder read a sketch of the life of the former, reviewing her work along all lines of growth, and Miss Aura Rogers gave a brief review of the life of Miss Hood.

Songs characteristic of Miss Lang were sung by Miss Hallie Foster, Miss Edna Edwards, Miss Judith Evans, Miss Carol Evans and Mrs. King, the last named giving the two dainty little ballads, "Just Because" and "The Sandman."

Miss Edwards was heard for the first and cars, proper trackage, docks and warehouses, which can be furnished for less than $5,000,000—an expenditure which will have to be made, in any case, in order to properly pro-vide transportation facilities for the traffic which now exists and for that going out for the construction of the

Because" and "The Sandman."

Miss Edwards was heard for the first time, and her clear, flute-like voice was admirably adapted to the lighter quality of her song, "Three Shops." Miss Edith Godbe and Miss Carmelite Pitt gave selections from the compositions of Miss Hood, and several of the others were heard again. Little Susie Russell, the child whose wonderful sonrang value has Train on Santa Fe Runs Away While Coming Down Mountain-Engineer Hurt.

Trinida:1, Colo., Feb. 9.-Thirty freight ears and an engine are piled up in a broken mass at Morley, ten miles west of this city, on the Santa Fe road, and all traffic is blockaded in consequence of the wreck, which occurred early today. The wrecked freight was a California fruit train, eastbound. Just after leaving the tunnel near the top of Raton mountain the engineer lost control of the train, the air brakes failing to work. The engineer and the fireman jumped, escaping with several bad bruises.

The train came down the mountain side at frightful velocity. At the big trestle on a sharp curve at the base of the mountain the engine went off the rails, fol-lowed by the entire train. Trainmen who arrived here tonight from Morley stated that Engineer Vaughn was seriously injured, but his recovery is ex-pected. The brakemen who were missed and who were supposed to have been caught under the wreckage have appeared on the scene and are uninjured. One track was cleared of wreckage late this afternoon and traffic was resumed.
